

Prayer Confession for Wisdom & Guidance

Father God, I acknowledge You as the only True and Living God. I lift up holy hands in adoration and praise to You. I lift up our hands in adoration and praise to You. I lift my hands without wrath or doubting. I lift my hands, full of assurance that You receive my praise, and even before I call on You, You have already answered the petitions of my heart.

I reverence You and Your Word in my life in all that I do. Your Word states that the fear of the Lord is the beginning of Wisdom, therefore, I increase in Wisdom daily. For You have given unto us, all that pertains to life and Godliness.

I let the Word of Christ dwell in me richly in all wisdom. You, Holy Spirit, Comforter, dwell in me, teaching me all things; leading me and guiding me in all Truth. My steps are ordered by You; therefore, I will not be led astray.

I have a blood-bought covenant right to have the ever-presence of Holy Spirit. You are with me, You are for me, You are greater than anyone against me! You will never leave nor forsake me. Your presence goes before me. Your light my pathway. You make plain my way. You make sure my steps. You lead, guide, and direct me.

Because You are with me, I can do all things through Jesus, the Anointed One and His anointing. I am more than a conqueror because the Greater One dwells in me. I have the victory that overcomes the world. Amen
